Vulcan One of Many Sites Considered for Agric. School

Population, Number of Possible
Students and Consciousness of Need Are Deciding Factors.

On Thursday of last week four of the members of the board which has been formed to investigate possible locations for new Agricultural Schools were in town and met representatives of the various local organizations who have been urging the consideration of Vulcan as a site for an agricultural school.

The board is made up of representatives of the Dept. of Education, Dept. of Agriculture, Mun. Districts Assn., Trustees' Assn., Alumni Assn. of Agriculture, U.F.W.A. Women's Institute and two members at large. Representatives to Vulcan were Mr. A. S. Longman, Deputy Minister of Agriculture; Mrs. Ross, ex-president of the U.F.W.A.; Mr. Wheatley, president of the Municipal Districts Assn.; and Mr. McIntosh. Acting as spokesman, Mr. Longman said that the board was investigating two things: possible district locations and the possibility of extending the present schools. When asked what he considered the main points to be looked for in the placing of an agricultural school, he said that the first consideration was the number of possible pupils between the ages of 16 and 25. Second was the location of the present schools and their proximity to the population, and third was the consciousness of the people of the need for an agricultural school.

When the question of the airport as a possible site was raised, Mr. Longman said though they had been used temporarily where necessary, they had been found unsatisfactory for permanent use. Since the sum of $500,000 is to be spent on agricultural schools as a post-war project, half this money to be supplied by the federal government, the buildings definitely have to be permanent.

Mr. Longman said that the special problems of certain areas would have no bearing on the placing of the schools, since the basic courses are the same at all schools. Many possible locations are being considered and no definite decision will be made until all have been investigated.

Carmangay Girl Weds Local Man

SMITH — MCFARLAND

The United church, Carmangay, was the scene of a wedding on Friday, July 19th at 2:30 o'clock when Hazel Florence McFarland, R.N. daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. McFarland, Carmangay, and James Ross Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Smith, Vulcan, were united in marriage. Rev. Peter Dawson officiated at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin shaped like leaves and having rosettes of the same down the front of the skirt. Her floor length embroidered veil cascaded from a halo headpiece, and she carried a bouquet of red carnations.

The bride's sister, Miss Mary McFarland, was the bridesmaid and she was gown in delphinium blue net with chapel veil and her flowers were pink carnations.

The best man was David S. Smith, brother of the groom and the ushers were Manning Burke and Jack Dixon.

Mrs. Roy Dayman played the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Cecil Burns who sang "At Dawning" during the signing of the register.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents to some sixty guests followed the ceremony. The bride's mother wore a rose petal-crepe frock with corsage of pink carnations and the groom's mother chose a pastel green dress, also wearing pink carnations.

A wedding dance was held in Carmangay Friday evening after which Mr. and Mrs. Smith left by motor for a honeymoon to Los Angeles. The bride travelled in a forest green dressmaker suit with black accessories and wore a corsage of pink carnations. On their return they will reside in Vulcan.

J. M. Davidson of Lethbridge Collieries has said that Alberta's only hope of becoming an industrial province lies in coal and coal processing. There would be great expansion by converting coal supplies to oil.

Growing Interest Leads To Organization Vulcan Flying Club

New Piper Aircraft Purchased;
Authorized to Use R.C.A.F.
Airfield.

Growing interest in flying and popular demand for flying instruction locally has led to the formation of the Vulcan Flying Club.

John Jamison is secretary of the new organization, and Phil Lucas and Glen Fisher will be the instructors. Mr. Lucas last week purchased and took delivery of a new Piper Cub two-place aircraft, which will be used by the club for flying instruction and for carrying passengers. The aircraft will also be available for any emergency requiring quick transportation.

The new flying club's membership fee is $5.00 and flying instruction will be provided at the rates laid down by the Department of Civil Aviation. A pilot for many years, Phil Lucas has done considerable northern bush flying and during the war was a ferry pilot in the north country for the United States army. He has logged over 4,000 hours as a pilot and his varied experience will prove valuable to the flying club. Glen Fisher served in the R.C.A.F. as an instructor during the war and has logged over 1900 hours, 1300 of them as instructor in elementary flying. With such highly qualified men teaching them, prospective pilots are assured of the very highest standard in instruction.

The club has been authorized to use the runways at the former No. 19 S.F.T.S. airfield near Vulcan and efforts are now being made to also acquire an air strip close to town. The flying club is away to a good start and its future progress will be watched with interest.

Band Would Be Great Asset

Local interest is being shown in the reviving of the Vulcan Band and, providing instruments can be secured, this should not prove too difficult. Two capable bandmasters are available right in Vulcan and there is no dearth of local musical talent and young people interested in the forming of a band.

Possibly the towns of Vulcan and Champion could combine efforts in this matter, for a good band would be a great asset to both towns.

SPIRIT BREAKING TAXES

WHEN one sees a normally kind and even-tempered man looking as if he were ready to strangle infants, the likelihood is that he has just had a letter from the Income Tax department demanding further payment on his 1942 income tax or else. The income tax racket is a crushing burden on the people of Canada, immeasurably aggravated by the fact that officials in this form of tax collection are years behind in their work. It is taking very questionable advantage of ordinary citizens, particularly those in ranching and farming business, to expect them to dig up all the data of four years ago. If they cannot produce exact figures on labor employed (much of a transient nature) and on the most minute transactions, then they are held liable, and are subject to demands which are regarded as unjust and are resented by honest men.

Entirely too often, the department by sheer persistence and threat, beats down the spirit of its victim to the point that the extra amount demanded is paid rather than contested. But payment is made merely to preserve personal sanity, not as an agreement that the debt is owed. In fact it has been said that not 75% of the ordinary taxpayers know what the department is writing about. And it is nursing false hopes to expect that worry is over with settlement of the 1942 tax, because 1943, 1944 and 1945 are still in line for searching scrutiny. It is a strangle hold that is never relaxed and is literally driving people to despair.

The expense to which many men have gone in trying to get their income tax liability straightened away before they die or go mad, could scarcely be believed. And no sooner do they seem to arrive at an understanding with some one official, than the tax office personnel is shifted round, and another official starts all over from the beginning, asking for data on bygone years.

The curious thing is that men who are mercilessly hounded by the Income Tax department are men who have earned top rating for scrupulous honesty in all their dealings through their whole lifetime. No one in their home community would have a moment's doubt that they would turn in an honest statement in respect to income tax and that they would pay every cent they believed that they owed. But Ottawa apparently has no such honesty rating to go by. Every man seems to be regarded as a potential evader.

Income tax and its collection are becoming unendurable. Only the minimum of relief is promised for 1947, and unless the Dominion and the province reach some understanding of tax sources, the chance is the province will re-enter the Income Tax field, and another army of collectors and offices will be brought into play. An income tax strike is not beyond the bounds of possibility. The strike might stipulate no income tax till the government had substantially reduced its expenditures and employees. And certainly no income tax until the tax-free income of the ordinary citizens was on a parity with that of members of parliament.

Field Day At Lethbridge Farm

Lethbridge Experimental Station holds its annual field day on August 3. There will be no speeches, but groups of 25 or 30 will be guided to various points of interest. There is a great variety of experimental work to be seen, with a technician in charge.

An extensive series of cultural trials shows how to make the best use of stubble and trash to prevent soil drifting. Listing to prevent drifting on bare fallows will be demonstrated. There are hundreds of cereal variety plots including wheat, oats, barley, flax and winter wheat. Dates of seeding winter wheat indicate the proper time to seed this crop. Then there is a series of oil seed crops including sunflowers, flax, rape, sanflowers and soybeans. In the forage crops division there is an interesting experiment in the selection and breeding of alfalfa wilt-resistant strains. A large number of grasses and legumes are being grown in the forage crops nursery. Thousands of individual plants were set out this spring in an experiment to develop superior strains of forage crops.

Of particular interest to towns people will be experiments with 2, 4-D to rid lawns of weeds. By August 3rd annual flowers will be in full bloom. Perennial borders and hedges will be of interest to many. The notorious onion maggot seems at last to have found its match in the new insecticide DDT.

A welcome is extended to the public to visit the Experimental Station at all times. However, on the annual field day the day is completely devoted to showing the public what is being done.

Come any time between 10 o'clock in the morning and 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Coffee, milk and cream will be provided at noon so bring your lunch and spend a pleasant and interesting day at the Experimental Station on Saturday, August 3rd.

U.F.A. Advocates $1.55 Wheat Price

At an executive meeting of the U.F.A. a resolution asking that $1.55 Ft. William be established for 1946 was presented to Hon. J. A. MacKinnon and Hon. J. A. Gardiner. The U.F.A. believes:

"That wheat should be disposed in accordance with an agreement reached between the exporting nations and the major importing nations, but failing in this, the following contract should be extended to all those desiring to buy Canadian wheat:

"1. A guaranteed contract extending over a period of years.

"2. A fair price for a reasonably large volume.

"3. That this wheat go directly to the consuming country and not re-enter the market for re-sale.

"Based on present price levels and provided that present costs of production are not increased, we believe that the price of wheat for export should be $1.55 per bushel basis No. 1 Northern f.o.b. Fort William for four years.

"Following the completion of the contract for four years of supplying wheat at $1.55 per bushel which would be much below the market, we feel farmers are entitled to a further guarantee of $1.25 per bushel for an additional three years. In the event that production exceeds what the market will absorb, deliveries should be regulated by quotas.

"Should such a contract be impossible to secure the price of wheat should be not less than $1.85 for the ensuing year with a floor

Cutting Sawfly Traps at Once

Officials of the Dominion Entomological Laboratory at Lethbridge advise that the wheat stem sawfly flight for 1946 is complete throughout Alberta, and all eggs have been deposited. Most of these eggs have hatched, and the larvae are now feeding within the wheat stems.

Farmers who have used traps in their sawfly control program are reminded that these should be destroyed immediately to prevent the development of the grubs within the stems and the reinfestation of next year's crop.

The wheat traps should be cut close to the ground and the wheat used for feed, or the trap may be merely cultivated or disced out, making sure of a complete kill of all wheat plants in the trap. It is important to do this at once.—Lethbridge Herald.

The copper-colored nickel which was minted in Canada in war years is to be withdrawn from circulation. A lot of money was lost because this coin was mistaken for a one-cent piece.

price of $1.25 for the following five years.

"As farmers are paying an additional subsidy on wheat used for home consumption the price of such wheat should be the same as that for export wheat."

Baby Bonus 20 Million a Month

The annual report of the family allowances division of the health department discloses that its payments have levelled off at a monthly total of just under $20,000,000.

Its summary of its first full fiscal years of operation showed that at March 31, 1946, 1,509,211 registration forms had been received that a total of 1,406,151 families were receiving allowances, that they included 3,299,100 children and that the average allowance per family for March was $14.05 with an average of $5.99 for each child.

Number of Indian children in pay was 39,291.

As one of the "most satisfactory developments," the report referred to "provision by provincial governments of facilities with information on school attendance," a matter of "particular concern" to officials.

In British Columbia, 398 letters were written to parents in the first three months of 1946. In Alberta, there were 136 suspensions of allowances arising from 1,289 cases of reported non-attendance. Saskatchewan's education department had agreed to give particulars. In Manitoba, 6,200 letters had been written by the regional office to parents.

NEWS OF INTEREST

Ripe tomatoes were ready on the Jorgen's farm at Parkland the first week in July.

United States is looking forward to its sixth consecutive bumper harvest.

Alberta's crop prospects rated high last week, and led all Canada in wheat outlook.

Last week at Calgary stock yards a load of steers topped the market there at $14.00.

Edmonton's airport one of the finest on the continent will be returned to municipal administration at the end of the year.

It is expected that the Alberta Motor Association will have 20,000 membership shortly.

Cold storage meats on hand in Canada were considerably higher on July 1 than at the same period last year.

HAIL INSURANCE

Mr. S— stopped me on the street and said, "Was anyone insured when the storm hit the other day?"

I said, "Certainly, we had quite a few claims."

Then I got to thinking his question wasn't as foolish as it sounded.

You know only about 15% of the people in Alberta insure against hail.

TO PRAIRIE FARMERS

You have read and heard all the arguments in favour of the proposed Canadian-British wheat agreement. Now, in all respect, we ask you to consider the arguments against it . . . and, as fairminded men, form your own conclusions as to whether any such deal will be to your advantage or not.

The members of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange are vigorously opposed to Canada signing a bilateral wheat agreement with Great Britain or, for that matter with any other nation. Here are the reasons why:

In November, 1945, Canada pledged her word that she would not make a bilateral agreement of any kind with any nation. This is what the "Winnipeg Free Press" said editorially on June 19th, 1946, when the wheat agreement was being discussed:

"For Canada, of all countries, to break away from the marked course and, in seeking an immediate advantage, to ignore the greater good, to shade her pledged word, and to prejudice the most hopeful movement of modern times, (i.e., for freer international trade) would be little less than an act of treason."

A wheat agreement with Britain would practically close Canada's other export markets for wheat. True, Britain is our best single customer for wheat. But not the only customer. Even if the British were willing to buy all of her import wheat requirements from us, the entire British consumption could not begin to use up our exportable surplus of wheat and keep our farmers prosperous.

Here are figures that prove this statement:

In the thirteen years immediately preceding the war, Canada's wheat exports were distributed as follows:

TO UNITED KINGDOM	TO CONTINENTAL EUROPE
36%	49%
TO THE ORIENT	TO OTHER COUNTRIES
5%	10%

In the light of these figures, do you think that Prairie Farmers or Canada itself can afford to antagonize 64% of our world wide wheat buyers? These customers are distributed over more than sixty different countries. In normal times, we must depend upon them to buy our wheat. Where else could it possibly be sold?

If this wheat deal goes through every one of these countries will be antagonized. They will buy from other countries not only their wheat but all other foods that compete with wheat in world trade, such as corn, potatoes, rye, barley, oats, etc. Wouldn't you if you were in their place?

How then can Canada afford to ignore big buyers of wheat in Continental Europe, the Orient and elsewhere? The "Winnipeg Free Press" made this clear in an editorial on June 26 in which it said:

"The result (of any such wheat agreement) must be to narrow the range of our markets and make our future in wheat dependent largely upon few, not many, buyers. For an immediate advantage we will be foregoing long term security. When the contract is up, who will be in the driver's seat?"

"Canada's gain, being others' loss, the harvest would be certain. Having been denied a market because of Canada's privileged position, the injured parties (other wheat exporting countries) would have piled up their wheat against the day when the contract ended. What then would happen to prices?"

"In terms of trade, this (wheat agreement) would be a declaration of war, not co-operation. Is it conceivable that such a policy could advance the wishes of the organized farm bodies? Obviously not."

There must be flexibility in the marketing of wheat to cover variations in quantity and quality of production, not alone in Canada but in all other wheat producing, consuming and exporting countries. Wheat must also be sold at prices to compete with other food stuffs that are available in world markets.

This fluctuation in prices should keep pace with the price of goods that farmers have to buy. You know, yourself, that you are now paying more for implements, clothing, lumber and other things. Why, then, should you be held down to a fixed price for your wheat. Such a policy is neither fair nor reasonable.

Any promise of a future reward for your present sacrifices cannot possibly be fulfilled, although those in favour of the wheat agreement would have you believe that it can.

No wheat importing country will, for long, pay more for Canadian wheat (quality considered) than the prices at which other wheat exporting countries are willing to sell their wheat. Would you, if you were an importer?

During the crop year 1945-1946 Prairie Farmers lost about 150 million dollars because of the present "controlled" price for wheat. Do you ever expect to recover your share of that loss?

The truth is that if this proposed agreement is signed the "control" of your wheat will continue; and you will possibly face still further losses. And to whom will you look to make up for these losses?—Canada?—Britain?

The agreement will mean monopoly control of grain production. You, as farmers, will be told what you must grow and how many acres you may seed. And you will have no say as to how, when, where and at what price your crop will be sold. The Government will be both buyer and seller. You will have no say in the matter. How will you like that?

You have been guaranteed a floor price of $1.00 per bushel for four years, but not necessarily for your whole crop. The Government floor price announcement states specifically that delivery control may be necessary.

Commenting on the dangers of monopoly, the "Winnipeg Free Press" on June 26 said:

"No mention has been made yet of another ill-consequence of bilateral trade in wheat. The open market would disappear in favour of a state monopoly. There are differences of view about the open market, but nobody of consequence is advocating a state monopoly as the alternative."

Over and above all other objections, we oppose such change in national policy as a wheat agreement implies. The Government has no mandate from the people to embark upon a program of State Socialism.

THE QUESTION MUST BE ANSWERED ONE WAY OR THE OTHER:

Does Canada intend to permit the continuance of free competitive enterprise in wheat or anything else? or—does Canada intend officially to embark upon a policy of State Socialism?

If free competitive enterprise is to continue then Canada cannot afford to make bilateral trade agreements.

If State Socialism is the objective of the sponsors of the bilateral wheat agreement they should come right out frankly and say so, and not lead Canadians to believe that their liberty and their freedom of action are not threatened—when the very opposite is the case.
